THE FOUNDING & GUIDING PRINCIPLES

The English School of Kyrenia aims to provide an education which offers students the best possible opportunity to attain their potential and to become worthy members of the community in which they will live. We: the Board, the Parents, the Staff and the Students of The School, aim to create the circumstances for this to happen.

The founding and guiding principles of ESK are justice, trust, sincerity, honesty and integrity. It is essential to the integrity of the school that all staff members behave with the founding principles in mind at all times, in and out of school.

In order that the foregoing should happen, it is essential that every one of us is:

considerate respecting everyone else as an individual; making sure our words and our actions do not cause inconvenience or offence to anybody;

courteous being polite and helpful at all times;

cooperative being willing to work together;

committed being involved and determined;

friendly being on good terms with each other;

hard working doing our best;

trusting accepting that others are genuine in their wish to help;

responsible being reliable and accountable for our actions; behaving as part of a community.

THE PRINCIPLES IN ACTION

This means that in practice we should all do the following:

be punctual avoid late arrival and do things on time;

speak considerately avoid shouting and the use of offensive language;

be ready for lessons have the necessary books, materials and work;

clear up after lessons, activities and meals;

move in an orderly way avoid running and hold doors open for other people;

be kind respect differences among people, offer help politely and give it with good grace; respect the environment furniture and buildings, plants and animals, land, air and water.
